- Part time (PT) students: complete 30 credits per semester; commence dissertation in the spring semester of second year.

Whilst the University realises that students may find it necessary to work in order to support themselves, they must not arrange

- any employment, or
- other activities

that will cause them to be unable to attend and engage with required activities or undertake required private study.

Students with Recognition of Other Learning (ROL; credit exemption) will need to wait until the module(s) that they wish to take are available before they can begin their studies. This applies to the dissertation module as well.
